Open Forum:

Senator Resnick – In general, everyone I've talked to hates the new rock audit system. That's basically all that I've wanted to say. The committee I'm on isn't related to that at all.

VP Jones – I actually just met with Provost Zieg, and that was an issue I brought to his attention.
Senator Warren – What is everyone thinking about the food issue? The looming strike from rock dining. I think us as a senate should get a head start, so we could have the beginning of a plan ready.

President D'Egidio – Right now there is nothing that we as SGA can do to push for anything. With the strike, we can't do much. I will be in contact with the food people, mainly Chris Cole, to get a head start on what the plan is if a strike occurs.

VP Jones – Just to add on, Karla Fonner, our dean of students, has a plan in case there was a strike.

Senator Resnick – I spoke to a big group of people who plan on striking, they said they need to have a week's notice. You can support them if you want. They were asking people to contact them. Theoretically, if they get support, the strike won't happen.

President D'Egidio – Just remember to be wise with your words.

Chris has a comprehensive understanding of Robert’s Rules and policy through his time serving in various organizations. APSCUF Comments:

a) Tricia Bishop: We haven't met yet. I just wanted to say welcome back to everybody. We also hate the new rock audit. It seemed to be less information. I want to assume that it's good for administrative purposes. We hope they make improvements as the semester goes on.

Advisor Comments:

a) Dr. Lauren Moran: Hi everyone my name is Lauren Moran, and I am one of your advisors. Part of my responsibility is to advise the SGA and work with the senate. I'm here to support you. We will certainly give advice, and share thoughts from our perspective. Congratulations new senators and welcome aboard. Congratulations to our new parliamentarian. For abstentions, they are reserved if there is a major conflict of interest. Do you get personal gain for voting on the motion? If you have questions, we will always be willing to help out. The involvement fair is being moved to Thursday, it's the same time and same location. Next week begins the student officer meetings. If you hold a position, check CORE for the dates, times, and locations. Just some updates, Bob's Market has moved to Patterson Hall. It will be run by Student Support. SGA will still have a role in supporting. The pantry is open to any student. The PT lot has new paint and signage. Congratulations to SAA committee and Alexis. It looks really good. There is new Happy Bus routes and schedules. Both buses go on and off campus. You can also download the NextBus app.

b) Wendy Leitera: Hello everyone. My name is Wendy Leitera, and I am the executive director for the SRSGA. I am one of your advisors with Lauren. Don't play us off each other, because we are both on the same page. I work more closely with the finance committee. I plan to educate you all throughout the year on the organization. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to stop by the Cooperative Activities Office. I'm in room 237. As we go through the year, we'll talk a lot about the organization as a whole. I will be working with all of you and the executive board. If you have any questions, feel free to seek me out. This was a great first meeting. We have some returners here who knew what to do with the motions. You all did a great job this first meeting. We always talk throughout the year about recruitment. It's a great way to get involved. Great meeting and welcome to all of you.
